ACTIVITY THREE - MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS

An orchestra is a large instrumental ensemble typical of classical music. It has string instruments such as violins, violas, and cellos, as well as brass, woodwinds, and percussion instruments.

The instruments are grouped in sections. Other instruments such as the piano or the harp may sometimes appear in another section or may stand alone.

The term orchestra derives from the Greek. In ancient Greek theatre, the orchestra was the name of the area reserved for the chorus.

Look at the picture on the right. Which number is each instrument?

- a. piano
b. cello
c. harp
d. violin
e. trumpet
f. trombone
g. saxophone
h. flute
i. clarinet
j. the double bass

Fireflies Come!

Children's Song

No, no, fireflies come! Over there the water is deep! Over here the water is deep! No, no, fireflies come!

No, no, come by the mountain road!

The fathers of the fireflies are rich! It's natural, they glittering back! No, no, fireflies come!

No, no, come by the mountain road!

At daytime, hidden leaves with dew, All night, high up like a lantern. If it goes up to heaven It will be kidnapped by owls!

No, no, fireflies come!

Over here the water is shallow, No, no, fireflies come!

Over here the water is deep!

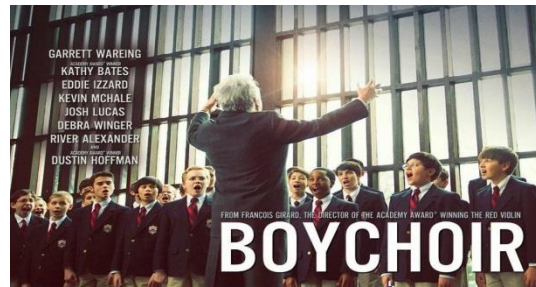

No, no, fireflies come!

Take a glance of the light of the lantern, No, no, fireflies come!

No, no, come by the mountain road, No no no no no no!
